VIENNA, June 20.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Maj. Pomisnowski, the military attaché of the Austro-Hungarian legation at Belgrade, was the last person outside of King Alexander's household who saw him alive. On the afternoon of the day preceding the tragedy, the major had a long private audience with King Alexander, which was interrupted by the King's adjutant, who entered the room, and made a communication to the King which seemed to agitate the latter. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.) which seemed to agitate the latter. King Alexander told the attaché that the audience must be continued at some future time. Maj. Pomisnowski thereupon retired. On entering the antefrom, the attaché found four officers standing in a group reading an anony-mous letter, purporting to have been warning him that he would be killed the same hight. King Alexander was much disturbed by the letter, but was reassured by M. Petrovics, who ridiculed the warning, and told the King that in order to prove his disbellef-in it, he would, contrary to his usual rabit, occupy his lodgings in the Konak that night.

The Minister said it was inexplicable why the British government intended to make the provisional Servian ministry of the night of June 10. upon officers is regrettable, more so a her death was by no means nee even though she had been deserted by the whole Servian people from the mo-ment she presumed to place the crown upon her unworthy head.

"The upheaval of June 11 was the work of a large number of officers. The consequences of the revolution however, were sanctioned by the whole army and the whole people.

"With regard to the members of the provisional government who were called upon to take the reins of govern-ment in the absence of all other aument in the absence of all other au-thority, they only proved their pa-triotism and personal courage by ac-cepting so delicate a mission as that which the people unanimously and with gratitude solemnly confided to them. "It is forgotten that the men composing the present government ware drawn from all parties and were hith-erto engaged in bitter political strife. Only devotion to their country could unite them at this critical moment.

Proof of the fact that they rendered good service to their country is f un! in the peace and order prevailing throughout the land. We have, therefore, good reason to regret the fact that an attempt is now being made by England, as the result of erroneo s information, to cast suspicion on a state of affairs which has for its object the maintenance of order and the eventual regeneration of a young na-tion, which has passed through a time of trial and which is attached to the cause of liberty and civilization.

AMERICA DITTO.

SUNDAY, JUNE 21, 1903.

IBY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.1 WASHINGTON, June 20.—The United States government has adopted an at-titude similar to that of England totitude similar to that of England to-ward the new Servian dynasty. It will be in no haste to recognize the new government in the absence of some ex-hibition of a disposition to punish the guilty. Therefore Mr. Jackson, who, besides being minister to Greece, is also minister to Servia, will not pre-sent his credentials to the govern-ment of King Peter at present. In fact, these credentials have not been prepared.

FRANCE'S DEPRECATION. PARIS, June 20.—Foreign Minister Delcasse's colleagues express the belief that he is likely to deprecate the Servian tragedy by an explanation similar to those of Russia and Austria, but it is pointed out that King Peter took the initiative in the case of Russia and Austria, by telegraphing to the Czar and Emperor Francis Joseph, thus affording them the opportunity for Russian and Austrian responses, whereas the Servian King has not addressed the other powers, and consequently has not given them an opportunity to make rejoinders. The opportunity, however, will come when the question of recognition of King Peter arises. In the meanwhile, the French Minister at Belgrade has been instructed to restrict his action to current routine affairs, and to remain in a neutral attitude toward the new regime until the question of the King's Delcasse's colleagues express the belie regime until the question of the King's recognition is formally decided. ASSASSINS SHOULD RETIRE. IBY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS_A W1 BELGRADE, June 20.—Unless King Peter is prepared to altogether ignore the foreign demands for the punishment of the assassins, his only means ment of the assassins, his only means of satisfying any requirements appear to be to persuade the criminals to absent themselves until quiet is restored, when they will be permitted to resume their places in the army. The provisional government holds office solely at the will of the army, and should King Peter promise to punish the officers implicated, it is as likely as not that the army will force the withdrawai of the invitation to occupy the throne. of the invitation to occupy the throne. Postmasler-General Payne Will not Resign-Perry Heath in Hot Water.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, June 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The World's Washington correspondent says President Roosevelt is in personal charge of every detail of the investigation of the postal scandals, and while he is determined to let no guilty man, high or low, escape, he is also of the opinion that there has been too much talking, noise and red fire.

Acting under the President's instructions First Assistant Postmoster Gen.

tions. First Assistant Postmaster-General Wynne sent a letter to Mr. Payne this afternoon, requesting that every bureau under his jurisdiction be given bureau under his jurisdiction be given a thorough investigation. He asks that every branch of the service under his control, and every responsible employé be made part of the inquiry. The bureaus under Wynne are the divisions of salaries and allowances, post-office supplies, correspondence, dead letters and the money-order system.

Wynne does not intend to take any chances hereafter. He desires to have Wynne does not intend to take any chances hereafter. He desires to have the integrity of his chiefs proved beyond a doubt. He wishes all irregularities, if they exist, discovered and remedied. He intends to have the stamp of official approval placed upon the bran-nies of the service for which he is responsible. This will prevent any secret investigations for the purpose of trapping Wynne.

rapping Wynne.

Discoveries have been made in the examination of the records in the division of salaries and allowances, showing that a 40 per cent, commission was collected on at least two contracts. This is the same amount Machen is alleged to have received from the patent letter-box-fastener contract, and McGrapy and Upton to have received on purchases of letter earrier pouches. The officials are daily becoming more convinced that 40 per cent. was the regularly established figure for the division of the proceeds in all cases where a comof the proceeds in all cases where a com was paid for awarding con-mission was passed tracts.

While the President willing to punish the guilty, he does not think it is necessary for the newspapers to print broadsides every day about the matter, and if the policy of giving out nothing beyond what is absolutely necessary will tend to lessen the space the newspapers devote to the scandals, he will be pleased.

After he gets his policy of less publicity firmly established, the President will take the next step. He is hurrying the officials in the Federal District Attorney's office for indictments. The postoffice officials have now some twelve or fifteen cases before the Federal officials. Most of these are minor offenders, and some of them are men who are already under indictment, like Machen. When a sufficient number of indictments has been secured, arrests indictments has been secured, arrests will be made, and the whole lot of alleged offenders be lined up for public Inspection.

The President has no intention of removing Mr. Payne. He says he is fond of him, calls him "Harry," and contends he has made but one mistake in the whole office. The President admits Payne's handling of the Tulloch charges was an error of the head and a storm, killing six men and injuring the windows in Senecaville, as score of others, besides destroying the mine shaft and breaking nearly all the windows in Senecaville, a mining town of 300 people, half a mile from owner of the mine. The men killed and wounded were carpenters.

When the storm came up the men took refuge in John Salzburger's barn, owned distance from the mine and suddenly a blinding flash came and in an instant the barn was demolished and the men scattered within a radius of 100 feet, over a score bleeding from integration the blacksmith shop. moved are coming in thick and fast.
Many newspapers, most of them Republican in politics, arrive daily at the White House with editorial articles marked. All these editorial articles insist that the only way to get at he bottom of the frauds is to put Payne out.

The President bangs the table with his fist when he says Payne shall not his fist when he says Payne shall not go out. He is strenuous about it. He says he doesn't care what the public says, and that if Payne should write out his resignation and hand it to him he would not accept it.

Meantime, Mr. Payne has heard with much apprehension that the President has wondered once or twice if Payne's health will stand the strain. It was purely a tentative wonder, but Payne remembers the melancholy fate of Alger and shudders. Two days before Alger resigned, Mr. McKinley said Alger would stay, must stay; that Alger's removal would reflect on the whole administration: McKinley could not withstand the pressure. Payne spends sleepless hours wondering whether Roosevelt can, although Roosevelt can, although Roosevelt asserts "By godfrey," and By Jove," that he will never let go of "Harry."

The contract syndicate has been given another hard rap by Second Assistant Postmaster-General Snellenharger, who proposes to continue the rule that all bidders for service under contract in carrying mails must live in the district where the work is performed, or contiguous thereto.

Every day the clamor for publicity grows louder and louder, and largely from the Republican press. One feature exciting the curiosity of politicians is how Abner McKinley will appear when the investigation is finished. It is pointed out that one of the greatest things redounding to the credit of the martyred President was that all propositions for graft coming from Abner McKinley were coldly rebuffed.

MORE INVESTIGATION.

GENERAL CLEANING OUT. GENERAL CLEANING OUT.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES!

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Postmaster-General
Payne today ordered postoffice inspectors to investigate the money-order division of the dead letter office, and the correspondence division. These orders together with the investigation orders heretofore issued, cover all department matters, and when the investigations now proceeding are finished, it is confidently believed that the Postoffice Department will have been cleaned out. and Mr. Payne can say to the Pr dent that his department is upon sound a basis as any department of government.

In spite of all reports that the investigation has only just started and that other prominent men will be caught, there is the best of reasons for believing that the scandal has about run its course, and that a few days or weeks at the outside will finish it up. Meantime it can be said that the President more vigorous official. The President will ignore these demands on the grounds that in the short time Mr. Payne has been in the department he has done more to purify it than was ever done before since the department was established, and also on the ground that no charges of corruption have been or can possibly be filed against Mr. Payne as Postmaster-General.

When the investigation is finished and Mr. Payne tells Mr. Roosevelt that the work is ended, Mr. Roosevelt will notify the country to that effect. He intends that it shall be known at the proper time that it shall be known at the proper time that it shall be known at the proper time that it shall be known at the proper time that the scandals are over, so that the people of the country will not continue to hold this department under suspicion.

Two men who have been particularly active and valuable to the government in the investigation will undoubledly be rewarded. One is Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow, who has been almost invaluable, and the other is Former Representative Loud of California, who provided money last winter when he was in Congress for carrying on such an investigation as this, and who has been in Washington for several weeks aiding in the work. Both these men will be amply rewarded for their labors.

Tonight the Washington Times prints an editorial in which it declares it is up to Mr. Heath to explain with facts the disclosures that have been made in Washington this week, and, falling in that, he should be made to explain tefore a court of justice. However, the policy has been adopted in the present investigation to prosecute only men who are now connected with the service and to leave the past alone, except is and to leave the past alone, except rs doings of ex-officials may be revealed incidentally in the investigation now

LONDON, June 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mr. Chamberlain continues to hold the center of the political stage: He is playing his game, whatever it may prove to be, with coolness and dexterity, such as he has never before displayed. Neither in the rupture with Gladstone over home rule, nor in the sensational days preceding the Boer war, did he press forward with such war, did he press forward with such unwavering purpose toward his goal. All the Parliamentary debates of the week have directly or indirectly rein-forced his original contention: that he has drawn or driven Mr. and the entire Cabinet. SENATORS BANG HERR. [BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.]
SACRAMENTO, June 20.—Accorded the finest kind of support throughout, Billie Thomas twisted up a class of ball in today's game that defied the best efforts of the Athenians. The result was a shut-out, as the visitors made but two singles in the first inning and one in the last, a total of three hits. On the other hand the Senators banged Herr all over the lot. Casey and Eagan both made home runs, and Eagan also got a brace of doubles, Townsend and McLaughlin getting triples. Score:

OBITUARY.

Vice Admiral de Solier.

NEW YORK, June 20.—The death of Vice-Admiral Daniel de Solier is reported in a dispatch from Buenos Ayres to the Herald. It occurred suddenly while he was on a yachting trip. A wave swept the deck, carrying the body overboard, but after a three hours' struggle, it was recovered and landed at Montevideo. Vice-Admiral De Solier was the ranking officer of the Argentine navy.

John B. Walsh.

NEW YORK, June 20.—John B. Waish, an actor, who began his stage career in 1857, with Thomas Hamblin and later played with Charlotte Cushman, John McCullough, Edwin Booth and Lawrence Barrett, is dead at the Actors' Fund Home on Staten Island. He had been ill about ten years.

About three weeks ago Le dreamed that burglars had entered his dreamed that burglars had entered his one, and that one was attacking him with a knife. He sprang out of bed and struck his head on a projection. The shock caused a clot of blood to settle on his brain, resulting in meningitis, which caused death.

WANTS EXPENSEXS CUT.

WANTS EXPENSEXS CUT.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—Mayor Schmitz today sent a message to the Board of Supervisors disapproving certain portions of the budget. The Mayor renews his assertion that the salary roll is too high, and that money saved by reducing compensation paid to city employés, or by abolishing positions, should be applied to permanent public improvements. He vetoes items aggregating $139,970, which, he claims, may be ellminated without crippling the departments affected. The vetoes are along the lines outlined in a previous message, with the exception that the street-cleaning item is not affected. It will require fifteen votes to override the veto.

NEITHER MONEY NOR PALACE.

CHICAGO, June 20.—Discharges in bankruptcy were granted by Judge Kohlsaat today to John A. and Alexander Davidson, of the Davidson Bros. Marble Company. The debts wiped out by the United States District Court amount to $1,432,838. One of the claims scheduled by John A. Davidson was that of Louise Montague for $100,000. Miss Montague, known to the theatrical world as the $10,000 beauty, had sued Mr. Davidson for this amount on the Stound that he had induced her to withdraw from the stage by promising to build a costly marble palace for her in New York.

BIG GOLD STRIKE.

BIG GOLD STRIKE.

BLACKFOOT (Idaho) June 20.—Advices from Mackay, Idaho, received tonight, report an immense gold strike on Beaver Creek, forty miles above Mackay, in Custer county. The vein is about three feet thick and development so far shows that it extends several hundred feet. The ore runs from $100 to $150 per ton, and the indications are that it will develop in extent as the work progresses.

TROOPS NOT WANTED. LEXINGTON (Ky.) June 20.—There is no doubt that the request of Judge Oeborne and the Harrison county officials that no troops be sent to Cynthiana while Jett and White are placed on trial will be observed, unless enough feudists from Breathitt county should be there to make the situation threatening. Judge Osborne will call a special term for early next month to try Jett and White.

He drives a machine designed by himself.

The records were made in a pursuit race with Tom Cooper of Detroit, who drove his "999." The former world's record for a mile was 1:012-5, held by Oldfield himself. Next he smashed the two miles record held by himself, covering the two miles in 2:002-5. The former record was 2:05. On the third lap he again broke the record by making it in 3:02. On the fourth lap he covered the distance in 4:033-5. For the five miles he made the record of 5:043-5. On three of his laps he covered the distance in less than record-time. He received $1200 for breaking the records.

The Tramp's Paradise.

District Attorney Jerome was rather amused by the manner in which a tramp who strolled up to the kitchen door of his Lakeville home last Sunday morning sized up the labor situation. While the wanderer was devouring the food set before him he bitterly complained about the hard times. "But I had imagined that work was plantiful now," ventured Mr. Jerome, "Oh yes," was the reply, "there is plenty of work all right, but if you belong to a union you have to be on strike most of the time, and if you don't belong to a union they won't let you work anyhow."—[New York Times.

In the little town of Aberdeen, Q., there lived, when the war of the rebellion broke out, four brothers named Lane. One after another they took service in defense of the flag, until the baby of the group, Zachary T., reached a passable age, and followed his brothers to the war. On returning from the field at the close of the war, in 1865, the old home seemed too cramped for Zack, so he packed is little bundle, wandered westward, and the brothers failed to keep informed of one another's movements. After the ups and downs that have been the experience of many good veterans, Zack several years ago became a member here, where, when his health permits,

"Do you think you can 'lick me, now?"

Now Zack is not given to backing down, and is, in fact, ready at "the drop of the hat" as a rule. Só, glancing at the stranger, and proceeding to put himself in shape, he retorted:

"Well, I don't know who in hell you be, but you kin bet yer store teeth I'm willin' to go yer a bunch."

A kindly gleam came into the eyes of the stranger as, laying his hand caressingly on the shoulder of the other, he said:

"What! don't you know me, Jack?"

"Well, I'll be d—di" shouted Zack, as he rushed at him; and the brothers clasped hands for the first time in thirty-eight years.

CHANGE OF TEACHERS. COVINA, June 20.—Never in the history of the Covina schools has there been such a complete change in the faculty as this year. The following are completed, and the specifications are being rushed. With the exception of some minor changes, the new building, which is to be erected at the southeast end of the hospital—will be similar to the wing on the northeast end. Adjoining the proposed new wing, and included in the same contract, there will be a small building to be used as a detention ward for the temporary care of the insane and of otherwise irresponsible members, pending determination as to their disposal. The building will be of one-story, 20x36 feet, with rooms for eight patients, and will have modern accessories. A yard 22x46 feet, enclosed for nurposes of safety by a high wall, will provide for outdoor exercise.

The ladies of John A. Martin Post, W.R.C., tendered their friends an ice-cream social Tuesday.

BY THE WAY.

Much interest is felt in the question of an enlarged water system, and two week ago a committee, consisting of Messrs. J. H. Linkletter, W. J. Newby and E. W. Scheurer were appointed to investigate the subject and report to the people. Their reports will be heard at a mass meeing at Hockett's Hall, Monday-evening.

Rev N. T. Edwards of Escondido, has accepted a cail from Plymouth Congregational Church of this city, and will soon begin pastorate.

With Yosemite Valley as their destination and all summer to spend on the way, about twenty-five Whittier people plan to have an almost ideal outing. Yesterday the first party, which included Lewis Landuth, F. S. Woodard, G. H. Horney and Roy Stephenes and their familes, started, and Monday the second group, composed of W. S. George, A. F. Weise and Lewis Butman and their families will also start over the same road, joining the preceding campers at the great park.

ALHAMBRA.

ALHAMBRA, June 20.—The graduating exercises and reception of the class of 1903 of the Alhambra High School, were held last evening at the Jaques building. The large auditorium had been nicely arranged. A platform had been built, and profuse decora-tions of palm branches and pepper sprays provided. A dash of red here and there, completed the club colors-red and green. At 8 o'clock all the seats in the auditorium were taken, and many were standing. Nearly 500 persons were in attendance. Meine's Orchestra from Los Angeles gave a few selections, after which the class of ten graduates took their seats on the platform. The invocation was given by Rev. D. D. Hill. Before ingiven by Rev. D. D. Hill. Before introducing the class, Principal Wheat imparted the pleasing information that the Alhambra High School had been duly accredited in all its work by the State University. The following class exercises were then rendered in a most creditable manner: Salutatory, Adolph Graffen; class history, Alvina B. Lepley; class prophecy, Mabel G. Crow; class will, Agnes I. McMillan; valedictory, Claude A. Wayne. Principal Wheat made a brief but highly appropriate address in presenting the class to N. G. Felker, president of the board of trustees, who awarded the diplomas and delivered to the class an address that was an ideal one for the occasion, and filled with proper sentiment and instruction. After the presentation of bouquets, the class held a reception, and were congratulated personally. There were more selections by the orchestra, and the entire assemblage enjoyed a social hour.

disastrous conditions to body and nerves. Then it is that food, powerful food can best show its power. As an illustration a woman of Covington, O., says: "One day my husband while about the house dropped dead without moan or groan or warning of any kind and coming into the room I found him lifeless. The shock and the terrible anguish that followed were so great that in a week's time I had lost apparently all my flesh and the skin became shriveled; I was so weak that I reeled and staggered about with no strength or will power to do anything. "As time wore on I recovered just a little but not enough to make life worth the living. One day I read about a poor skinny little baby being restored to flesh and health on the food Grape-Nuts so I recolved to try it. I gained from the first box of Grape-Nuts and still more from the second and after using the third package I had strength and energy enough to go to house cleaning. something I

During a conversation with reference to Southern California, the writer was recently informed that 40,000 of those who had visited that garden spot in the past two years had remained in that section, or had permanently invested money therein.

The rapid development of railrosding along the Coast is one of the surest indications of great promise for the future. The Southern Pacific Railway, conceded to be the finest system throughout California, is spending millions of dollars in improvements. The Santa Fé, the only transcontinental trunk line owning its entire system from Chicage to Southern California, is likewise improving its services in every conceivable way. The Huntington system of electrical railways is the largest and most complete in the world.

out of himself, and those about him. He bounces into an automobile, turns a crank, pulls out some kind of a dingus, pushes in some other sort of a contraption, slams down some kind of a contraption, slams down some kind of a lever, pulls back another dingus, adjusts a pair of gogles about the size of a horse collar, then pulls out down the street at a rate of speed to make the hair curl on an Indian from the bad lands of Dakota. Zip, whiz, whir, here he comes! The dogs skelter out of the way, the chickens fly over the fence, the cattle break for the-brush, and the few people who verture forth on foot generally get run over unless they are aimighty careful. The chances are that it may be the horseless carriage people who are stirring up the cyclones with their wild bursts of speed—anyway, it is man who is raising the very dickens with things, and I know it, even if I can't prove it.

But man here in the United States bad as he is with his new-fangled propositions, is a pretty good fellow, compared with those Servians, who are killing off a King and Queen now and then, and then electing another Ring as nonchalantly as a horse walks up to a trough and takes a drink.

Down in old Kentucky where the meadow grass is more often wet with gore than it is with dew, there are some goings on in the town of Jackson that make even an Eagle Bird sit up and take notice. Talk about your anarchy—it strikes me that Jackson, Ky., is the capital of the Kingdom of Anarchy, if there is any such thing. It is almost as dangerous to be a court of justice in Jackson as it is to live in the Kaw River bottom, or on a Kansas prairie. As for being a witness for the prosecution at Jackson, it is more dangerous than going into a den of rattle-snakes and boa constrictors. There isn't very much sense in our complaining about the way that kings and queens are killed off in Servia when the authorities of Jackson, a town in the United States of America, cannot protect those called upon to give testimony before an American court.

But why should even an Eagle Bird here in California make remarks about the way some of those wild-eyed Kentuckians are performing in the face of that circus that was had up at Alturas, in Modoc county some time back? me the past dozen of years, or such matter, man has been showing his dissing smartness by fiddling of in his careless and reckless with some of nature's forces that to blow him sky high, or twist lying daylights out of the fellow his folks, if he doesn't watch a

But there you are again. It is man with his disturbances of the equilibrium of nature that is upsetting erything. People are getting wheels. They see so many of them going round on trolled cars and other blamed devices of one sort and another that their heads get full of things that Whiz and whir. Oh, say, you want me to prove that, do you? Well, fellows, I don't have to Is say it's so, and you'll have to take my word for it, or do the other thing.

But if you will just watch howthings are going all over the whole blooming world; if you will observe how mad, bad and unglad man is getting everywhere, I believe you will become convinced that I am right—that there is entirely too much monkeying going on with the storage batteries of nature. That there is too much speeding up doing. That everybody is in too all-fired big a hurry to do everything and get to some other places from where they are at this writing.

has been spolled by the investigation of the Associated Charities.

Mrs. Kots is the woman who arrived at the Police Station last Tuesday with the retinue of five little children. She told the reporters that she had come all the way across the continent without money and without food except for that furnished by sympathetic fellowpassengers. She was seeking health for the dek child.

her sick child.

The emotions of some of the newspapers were so touched by this sad story that they devoted much space to the tearful and heartending example of mother love.

The Associated Charities did not smallow her story whole. Together with representatives of the Hebrew Ald Society, Miss Carver of the Associated Charities made a thorough investigation into the tale.

The result of the investigation is that the woman's story is found to be false in many particulars, and it is said she practically makes a business of touring the country on pleasure bent at the expense of charitable people. In the last two years she has been fortunate should be defined and back again with her whole family of children. A millionaire's wife could do no better.

Although she has a sick child, it is not sick in a way that climate could be of any benefit. It is a little girl 9 years old, who his been imbecile from birth and has consequently no control over her limbs. Those who have looked up the case say that climate could not af the slightest benefit to the child,

"Ocean Beach" Redondo Auction of Lots Next Thursday

THE-GRADERS JUST PUTTING ON THE FINISHING TOUCHES AT OCEAN BEACH, REDONDO.

A Magnificent Opportunity to Own a Beautiful Beach Lot at Your Own Price.

We offer these lots at auction because we want to sell the entire tract in a single day instead of frittering the entire season. By condensing an entire season's expense into one day we save a vast sum of money. Of course we take some chances-but we can afford to take chances when big results are the issue. This is the first time that the choicest kind of beach property has ever been offered at auction and it will probably be the last, so do not hesitate or wait for history to repeat itself. New, this week, is the time to act. Visit our office and learn full particulars, go and select your first and second choice before day of sale. There are less than one hundred and fifty lots to be sold-you can't make a mistake,

Big Barbecue and Grand Concert on Day of Sale,

This sale will commence promptly at 11:00 a, m. Thursday, with Ben O. Rhoades as auctioneer in charge. Every lot put up will positively be sold when two or more bids are received. At noon a genuine Spanish barbecue will be served by Harry Webb, of the Esmeralda Cafe, Redondo. The bill of fare will include Beef. Beans, Chilli Sauce, Tortillas, etc. Dur ing the lunch a fine musical programme will be rendered,

Half Fare on Thursday.

All who wish to attend this sale Thursday can get half tickets at our office. Hiaman & Cavanah at Redondo are our representatives and will be glad to show you the property. Be sure to make your selections before day of sale. Call at our office for any further information.

Don't Forget That this property is reached by two electric lines and one steam railway. Don't forget that Redondo is growing and values are increasing. Don't ferget that next Thursday is the day when you can double your money. Beach lots have always made money for every man who has owned them. Attend

CEAN BEACH, REDONDO, is one of the finest situated properties on the entire Pacific Coast. These lots lay right on the ocean's edge-level without being lowsightly and commanding choice pictures of the ocean without being on a bluff. The lots are 40x60 and 40x105 feet in size, including many froating on the ocean, others are beautifully located on fine avenues leading back from Sidewalks are built on the streets—there is a fine water system, gas and electric light. Building restrictions intended to advance the value of all the property will be inforced. The cheapest cottages that can be built are $750 and $1,000, the cheapest 2-story houses $1,000 and $1500. Sixty new buildings are now in course of construction in Redondo,

Two electric lines reach Ocean Beach. The Redondo Railway Co., starting from Second St., and the Los Angeles Pacific starting from Fourth St. This is the only beach with two competing trolley systems and the effect of this competition on property values cannot be overestimated.

Redonde has line bathing, the ships coming and going giving the place an air of life entirely lacking at other resorts,

The fishing at Redondo offers the best kind of sport to old and young. It is the one ideal resort combining at the same time many shipping and other business features which are sure to keep the price of property moving ever upward. At regular sale these lots would be an investment worthy of the shrewdest buyer, At Auction you simply cannot afford not to buy.

The people have decided that unless the bonds are sold it would be better to build temporary quarters for their children than to try to get them to other schools already crowded.

No developments in the bond situation came to light yesterday, and it was stated by the Councilmen that the matter remains in statu quo.

IN DIRE DISTRESS.

MONEY NEEDED AT HEPPNER.

Mayor Snyder yesterday issued a call the people of Los Angeles asking money for the relief of the storm sufferers at Heppner, Or., who are in great need. A telegram was received yester-Heppner stating that the survivors of the flood are in dire distress. Subscrip-tion lists were furnished all the banks yesterday and people who desire to help in the work of succor can leave their contributions at any of the banks. The Mayor's pronunciamento is as follows: To the people of Los Angeles: I am this day in receipt of a telegram from Mayor Frank Gilliam of Heppner, Or.,

"We are in dire distress. Need money

"We are in dire distress. Need money badly."

The survivors of the recent disastrous floods at Heppiner are in a terrible condition and suffering for want of the necessaries of life. Their homes have been ruined, their farms devastated and their stores of provisions and supplies swept away. The demand for relief is urgent, and, in common with all Americans, the people of Los Angeles should do their part in succoring these hapless people.

Contributions of money should be made at once at any of the local banks. I have requested all the bankinghouses of the city to act as custodian of any funds left with them and will see that the relief money is forwarded to Heppner as quickly as received.

I urge our people to respond freely and promptly to this appeal for aid.

BITTER FIGHT BY CHRISTIE AND TAYLOR.

FORGERIES COMMITTED.

Lawyers Make a Hard Struggle to Keep One Witness from Testifying That He Was Familiar With Taylor's Writing and Believed He Did the For-

Fixing guilt upon Christie and Taylor, who are accused of cheating the Continental Building and Loan Society out of thousands of dollars, is proving a matter of the utmost legal difficulty.

The second day of their preliminary examination before Justice Pierce witnessed a great technical fight between the lawyers are builting agir.

mish it was worth going to see.

On each side were some of the most skillful lawyers at the local bar.

In spite of the vigorous efforts of the defense to block it, the prosecution managed to get in more evidence of forgery on the part of either Christie and Taylor or one of them.

On the application—that the two are alleged to have sent to the loan company at San Francisco for the bogus loan, there was the endorsement of C. H. Tate, alleged to be one of the appraisers who vouched for the value of the Coons property, on which the loan was to be made.

Yesterday Tate went on the witness stand and swore that he had never been one of the appraisers of the property, and that the name signed to the appraisement was a forgery. Tate was employed by Christie and Taylor as the foreman and inspector of their building operations.

Another of their employes also testified against them—H. J. Deyo, a draughtsman and secretary for the company known as the National Construction Company, which was the Christie-Taylor concern.

He said he never could find out exactly who made up the company or who was the head of it, but he thought Christie seemed to do the bossing.

He gave some hot shot on the subpany or who was the head of it, on the thought Christie seemed to do the bossing.

He gave some hot shot on the subject of the alleged forgery. As a draughtsman in the employ of Taylor in Bakarsfield some time ago, he said that became familiar with his handwriting. By virtue of this familiarity, he swore that he believed the fake application for a loan to have been written by Taylor. He thought the name of Coons had also been forged by the same hand.

This made the defense wriggle, and they jumped on the witness furiously, on cross examination.

They wanted to know how he knew Taylor's writing.

He said he had seen it in the Bakersfield office.

"Did you look over his shoulder while he was writing letters?" asked LeCompte Davis.

Justice Pierce interrupted and said he would not allow a witness to be asked such a question.

Deyo said he had received written.

he would not allow a witness to be asked such a question.

Deyo said he had received written instructions from Taylor about his work, and had always been paid in checks written by Taylor, and thus knew his writing. "Then," said Davis, "if you know his writing so well, let's see you write something the way he does; take a pencil and piece of paper and writen his name as you have seen it on checks."

"I am not an expert forger," said his name as you have seen it on checks."

"I am not an expert forger," said the witness, declining.

"Well, you can tell what kind of an 'A' as he did."

The witness still protested, and the Court ruled that he need not answer. "There are hundreds of men, said Justice Pierce. "who can identify a certain horse if they see it, without being able to draw a picture of the horse."

Davis was so disgusted that he gave a snort, and refused to proceed with a further examination. It's no use," he said, when his associates protested, "the Court twon't let you ask are the B.W. Kennya carbier of the Portal Court won't let you ask are and the witness."

"the Cour twon't let you ask anything."
R. W. Kenny, cashier of the Broadway Bank, identified the signature of Christie on the fake application and appraisement.
During the course of the day's proceedings Davis gave an idea of the loophole through which an escape is evidently planned.

He said that there was no evidence to show that, if Taylor wrote the fake application, he had not done so simply at the dictation of some other person, and had filled in the blanks, taking some one's word for the truth of the

FOR POLL TAX. This is an interview by Ben Ward

"According to the statement made by County Assessor Ward, those who have not paid their poll tax have but a short ings.

Indications point to an award of the sprinkling contract to Charles Stansbury. Several of the Councilmen were figuring the bids yesterday. The award may be postponed, however. deputies at present engaged upon com-pleting the rolls will be free to round up the delinquents on personal property and poll tax. Many letters have been Scotchman came to the Wainut-street office of one of the teachers of materia medica at Jefferson College, and presenting a letter of introduction from a common friend, began relating the symptoms of his aliment. When he had concluded the physician said:

"The first thing you must do is to stop smoking and then ext is to cut off your liquor, and then there must be no more midnight suppers."

"Humph!" ejaculated the Scot. "I dunno leek that."

"Well," said the physician, relenting, if you must have something to eat at night take a few crackers and a glass of warm milk about an hour before retiring; but no liquor, remember."

"And is that all?" asked the Soctomman, as he arose gravely from his chair.

"I think so," said the doctor. "Officourse, I want you to come in to see me again in about a week."

"Well, good day to ye, doctor," said the patient, as he stepped toward the door.

"Oh, I beg your pardon, my usual fee iz $10 for the first visit, but in your case the charge will only be five, as our friend asks me to let you down easy," said the physician, as he picked up the note of introduction from his deak.

"Five dollars, and fer what?" asked

"Then, replied the Highlander, III.

"And why not, pray?" asked the doctor.

"Because," replied the Scotchman, "I naw intend to take your advice."—

James McClintock, a husband who forgot to come home to his wife, was defendant in a divorce suit tried before Judge Allen yesterday.

The plaintiff was Mrs. G. McClintock, she swore that when they were living in Oxnard her husband told her he was going to examine some mines, and instructed her to go to their old home in Fomona, where he would join her later. She did as she was bidden, but she did not see her husband again, she says that she afterward heard that he went to the home of his mother in Ontarto.

She, being left alone, was supported by her half-grown boys and her own efforts for a time, but at last she fell sick and had to depend on her sister for sustenance.

She said that McClintock is a strong, healthy man, able to take care of her; his only obstacle to getting a living, she says, is an ungovernable temper, which loses him jobs.

Etta Bruck was granted an interlicutory decree of divorce from Grant Bruck on the ground of prolligacy, He is alleged to be a gambler.

Edna A. Chandler was divorced from George E. Chandler—cruelity.

WATCHED THE "INJINE"

ALL NIGHT LONG.

Mr. Huntington's big steam engine that belched melted iron in a seething stream to weld the rails on Broadway proved to be the moral undoing of a little black coon named Henderson Brashear, who was brought before the Juvenile Court yesterday.

When that machine was working, Henderson stood watching it all day long with fascinated eyes. When it came night, the thing glowed and long with fascinated eyes. When it came night, the thing glowed and Brashear, who was brought before the Juvenile Court yesterday.

When that machine was working, Henderson stood watching it all day long with fascinated eyes. When it came night, the thing glowed and glowered through the dark with redoubled fascination. The little coon simply couldn't break himself away from it. He stayed out all night watching it.

Staying all night proved to be so much fun that he kept it up and sleeps out all night most of the time now; also he won't go to school.

Judge Wilbur asked him if he didn't want to be a man, and he said that he did. If he does not die, his wish will probably be gratified some day.

John Dixon was also brought before the Juvenile Court. He is the brother of a wicked youth who was recently sent to the Reform School. Judge Wilbur sent him to the Newsboys' Home. One of the little Lea bdys, who are perpetually in trouble for playing hookey, was brought in again. The judge gave him another severe lecture and told him to go to schol, which has been done many times hefore.

Business-Well-known Men in It. Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday for the Merchants' Trust Company, a corporation that has bought the Y. M. C. A. Bullding and will establish here what is promised to broker busy. Under such conditions stock speculation assumes an importance that would hardly warrant practical business men subscribing for the maintenance of two exchanges in a field where one seems to be more than sufficient. Yet it is stated that members of both exchanges are averse to a consolidation. The majority, it is understood, favor it.

This proposition is to consolidate the exchanges under one management, and to carry on trading in mining, oil and local securities. The calinoom of the Miners' Exchange will be used for the headquarters, if the plans are carried out, and there will be one call a day. Several conferences have been held by the joint committees, but without effecting any settlement. It was stated yesterday that another meeting would be held Monday, when it would probably be decided if consolidation is practicable.

The Jewett & Blodgett refinery in the Sunset district, which has been shut down for two weeks, will probably resume operations early this week, as there are many demands for refined product.

In the Sunset district few operators are drilling, though a number are expected to start shortly. The Alameda has a string of tools in operation, and it is understood that the Carter Oil Company will also begin extensive developments.

SHRINERS AT THE MASON.

SHRINERS AT THE MASON,
The Mason Operahouse officially belonged to the Shriners last night, between two and three hundred members of this order being present in their red fes regalia. Almost all of the chief officers of local Shrinerdom attended, with their ladies, and the scenwas perhaps the most brilliant of anyyet witnessed at the new theater.
Yesterday's matinée broke all records, there being upward of 2009 paid admissions, which filled all of the large standing space to its utmost capacity.
The Sotherh season closed uneventfully last night.

That I make of chronic conditions, those diseases and conditions for which you have treated long and earnestly and failed to receive permanent relief. These are the conditions that yield to my "EXACT CAUSE" treatment, personally applied. I treat by direct method not in common use by others. During 20 years' practice I have acquired what is termed a thorough and practical knowlege of cause, effect, and cure of the diseases which under ordinary treatment become chronic and complicated. I have made it a point not to guess, but to know why and for what I treat any condition. In this way I may sav, with positive assurance, that I have been successful in effecting some cures that are above the average, and not accomplished by other means. When I have seen you and examined your case I will know just what to do and how to do it to give you the quickest results. This you will at once preceive from my manner of examination, which is very searching and which reveals to me what others of less

Swensen's attorney and confidante, says:
"Mr. Swensen's total debts would not exceed $5000. They are the result of two unfortunate contracts undertaken by him—the San Gabriel Cañon and Third-street tunnel contracts. In order to protect themselves against the statute of limibation, and with Swensen's consent and approval, the creditors went into court and obtained judgment covering the liabilities. The suggestion that Swensen is hiding from these obligations is wholly absurd.

Mr. John H. Folev Los Angeles, Cal.

Dear Sir: I received another telegram from my book-keeper this morning, dated at Altar, where he is held as a witness pending examination into the death of Mr. Swensen. He briefly stated that Swensen came to his death from a shot fired by Brown, Swensen's partner in the mining business. Of course, there was little definite information as to the circumstances, as the telegram was short.

My book-keeper stated that he would probably be at home in two or three days, and upon his arrival I will be able to state to you fully all the circumstances.

I would again recommend that you

Friday morning, after the excitement of the Mason opening the previous evening, the actor stayed in bed, but arose at noon and summoned all his companions for, a trip to Santa Monica. The party of ten spent the whole afternoon on the sands, and the sait air seemed to retresh them greatly, as they were loud in their praises of the beach when they returned.

The rest of his time here was spent mainly at the hotel, or the theater. Miss Loftus, who also stayed at the Angelus, if equally retiring, and seems to have an inborn hatred of unnecessary excitement and publicity.

Mr. Sothern finds marvelous changes in Los Angeles since his last visit here, about ten years ago, and remarked to some friends that he would not have believed it possible for a city to exhibit such enterprise as this town has shown. He is a great believer in the future of Los Angeles, and of Southern California in general.

The eminent actor and his whole company were especially pleased with the beautiful Mason Operahouse. For once they found a stage of ample proportions for the placing of heir extraordinary scenery. "Indeed," said Mr. Sothern's young English stage manager yesterday, "your stage is really too big, don't you know! We don't look for such accommodations outside of New York, and outside of New York, and outside of New York, and outside of New York and outside of the world in the Mason, we have had to bers who will not see things done by halves.

Dr. Dowling is at present taking a vacation at Coronado, but will return to preach on July 28 in Simpson Auditorium, to fill one of Dr. Taomson's appointments, he having resigned. This house has been secured by Christ Church for the month of July, and they may take it longer, but this has not been decided upon. It may depend on the size of the congregations. They cannot go there permanently, nor for a protracted period, as it is contrary to the laws of the church for one congregation to encroach upon the parish of another, and Simpson Auditorium is within the borders of St. Paul's parish, and it can only be occupied by receiving the consent of the rector of the parish. The constant repetition of the request, while no doubt it would cheerfully be granted by St. Paul's, would become onerous if not distasteful to so independent a people as Dr. Dowling's parishioners are supposed to be.

"There has also been some change as to the desirability of a corner. Corner lots are very much more expensive, and are more subject to annoyances of travel, and we may not seek a corner. We have a number of desirable locations in mind, but nothing definite has been done, and will not be until we have settled our insurance problem. With the $12,000 from that source, and probably not less than $10,000 from the saie of the lot at the corner of Eighteenth and Figueroa, beside an equity in the lot at the corner of Pico and Flower upon which the remains of our church now stand, we will have a pretty fair start for a new building.

Five One-Dollar Prizes for the Best Names Submitted Not Receiving Prizes Number One or Two.

THE LOS ANGELES ICE & COLD STORAGE CO. wishes to announce that its plant for the manufacture of pure oxygen is in successful operation, and that oxygenated water is now being bottled. This product is doubly distilled water charged into sparkle and life with pure oxygen, instead of gas manufactured from Bicarbonate of Soda, such as is ordinarily used for charged waters or beverages. Oxygen is the life-giving principal of the air we breathe: and wonderfully stimulating. Hereforce it has been impossible to secure it in a form in which it can be easily introduced into the human system. As will be readily seen, Oxygenated Water, sparkling and refreshing, will pass directly to the stomach; and it is the testimony of many reputable physicians that as a tonic Oxygenated Water will be of inestimable value.

As indicated above, we want a suitable name for our new product, and are willing to pay for one that

To stimulate competition we offer five one dollar prizes, which will be awarded to five persons sending names which, though not available for our use, seem meritorious.

Names should be thoroughly original, and should convey in themselves an idea of the product or its properties. They must be names not used before—capable of being copyrighted, in order that we may protect the public from spurious imitations. Beach Sets $3.50 and $6.25

Beautifully decorated ware, only they're slightly mismatched. Some of them made up from sets that would be $20 if perfectly matched. But for beach cottage use, where nobody expects to find a costly china service, they meet all requirements and save risks of breakage in your best sets.

$3.50 for 52-piece sets, and $6.50 for 100-piece setsabsurdly low prices for such splendid ware.

Automatic Refrigerators

An imperferfect refrigerator, even though a gift, is a poor investment - the ice it wastes soon costs more than a GOOD refrigerator. Automatic refrigerators have the right ventilating system, the right packing, the right lining. They're the most economical users of ice you can get—and ice-savers are food-savers.

Read These Particulars.

During the recent disturbance in freight traffic one full car of wash materials, which was gathered by our New York office, became lost and arrived last week-more than six weeks overdue. This particular car contained high-class novelties which were intended to be sold at the very first of the season. The consignment represented months of diligent research by our buyers. The shipping instructions having been disobeyed, we have been allowed a rebate in the price, so that for tomorrow we announce the largest sale of wash materials that has ever been held in Southern California.

of the furnished cottages here are oc-cupied or taken for the summer months. The bulk of those rented have about not so new. Many of them have from three to five rooms, and they are rented for from $30 to $60 per month for the months stated. Some of the large ones have rented for $100 per month. There are here and there about town a few cottages of about three rooms offered for $30 per month. They are not so elaborately equipped as some of the larger ones, but are fairly comfortable. A large washtub and perhaps a shower is usually provided and for those who take frequent dips in the sea, such bathing facilities are about all that are required.

At a meeting held in Kinney Hall Wednesday night a Chamber of Commerce was formed with the following-named directors: I. N. Inskeep, J. E. Robinson, Charles A. Stilson, Dana Burks, W. H. Carlin, W. T. Gibbon and Abbot Kinney.

THE AMERICAN ELK.

A Herd of One Hundred to Range in Griffith Park. BI WM. H. KNIGHT.

North America, for a century pas has been the sportsman's paradise the buffalo, the moose, the elk, the aribou, the deer, and the antelope-The buffalo, the moose, the elk, the caribou, the deer, and the antelope-gregarious animals—have proved an easy prey for the hunter. But they are being rapidly thinned out and some of them will presently become extinct unless measures are taken by the government for their preservation. The few remaining representatives of the bison family are now in private inclosures and in zoological gardens. The moose have been driven to Labrador and the region about Hudson's Bay—a scattering remnant still roaming in the northern wilds of Maine. The American elk, known technically as the Wapiti, (pronounced woplate with the accent on the first syllable,) and occupying an intermediate place between the common deer and the moose, was formerly abundant from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the Gulf to the fifty-seventh parallell; but as it roves in herds and is an elssy prey for the sportsman, it has become so rare as to be almost a curiosity. There is a close season for protection of deer which yet abound in large numbers in the mountains and sparsely settled regions of our country, but the noble elk are so nearly extinct that they are not even named in the California acts of protective legislation.

Fortunately a band of these interesting specimens of the genus Cervus, numbering 100, have been preserved by the biological bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture, and are now offered to the City of Los Angeles on the sole condition that they will be properly cared for. It is not favoritism on the part of the government officials that has selected Los Angeles for this honor, but the fact that our climate is favorable for keeping them in captivity, and that we have a park large enough to give them a natural range so that they can live under natural conditions.

In May, 1909, before the nomination of Roosevelt for the vice-presidency, Charles Hallock, in the Sportsman's Gazetter, thus quotes the present head of the United States Government in connection with the subject of elks: "Standing as tall as a horse, with superb antiers, the Wapiti justly holds first place among the game of our continent, says T. Roosevelt, in "Hunting Trips of a Ranchman," no other species of true deer comes up to its size, and the length and weight of its mighty antiers makes it, perhaps, the most majestic-looking of all the animal creation."

Fireworks for the Fourth

Largest Assortment to Choose From at Lower Prices

Than You've Ever Known

We've opened a fireworks bazzar just across the street from our Fourth Street entrance.

There you'll find an almost endless variety of fireworks that will appeal to the boys. We've priced these goods just as we do cetton cloth and tack nails, at a bare living profit. You usually have to pay fancy prices for fireworks, but Breadway Department Store merchandising methods will not permit such a precedure. You'd best make your selections early, as the assertments will seen be broken, already the selling is quite spirited, and it now looks as though we'd be sold out of the best numbers of fireworks long before the Fourth. Here's a hint at the prices.

Semi-Annual Pre-Inventory Sale

Presenting Golden Opportunities for Saving.≡

Twice each year we inventory our stocks. Every yard of goods has to be measured, every button and every little knick-knack in this big, busy store has to be accounted for. It is easier to count money than to measure goods. It's also much more pleasant and profitable. That's the why and wherefore of this sale. We're going to force out as much merchandise as possible before the time for stock taking. We don't expect to make any profit during this sale. All the short lines, broken a sortments and slow moving numbers will be slaughtered. Deep price cuts have been made, some down to cost, many below cost. Money-saving opportunities almost without precedent will be you's this week. Remember, half the good things will not be advertised. Our Bargain Tables will great under their loads of merchandise at reduced prices.

The opportunity to "tudy the principles of psychology as demonstrated by subconscious phenomena occurs very rarely in these days, notwithstanding the fact that at no time in the history of the world has there been such an intelligent interest in this clusive subject. The fame which Dr. McIvor-Tyndall has attained is doubtless due to the fact that he admits himself a student in psychic science and seeks as far as possible to avoid mystery.

AT HOME AND ABBOAD.

Calvé is not to sing "Carmen" in Beriin, after all. The populace is quiet. Sousa and his band met with extraordinary success in St. Petersburg. Conried is carrying on negotiations with Jean de Reszke for next season, and the tenor, besides insisting upon all kinds of money, demands a place for his brother Edouard, who has made money and a name for himself with the Duss' concerts. He will return next year to this organization, so it does not matter very much whether he gets the opera engagement or not.

The siren voice of Duss, offering an all-October concert engagement to Mme. Schumann-Heink, has been resisted by that business-like contralto, who will prolong her regular summer stay abroad, singing in Germany and Russia, until next January, when she will return to America as usual.

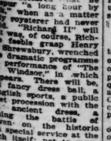

Mine. Norma Romano, an American protegée, it is said, of Mme. Melba, who heard her sing in Chicago eight years ago, and helped her to study in Europe, has just returned from abroad to sing with the Castle Square Opera Company

By Arthur I. Carr.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

In spite of our good times and the rige asset that we have in the shape unoccupied land and undeveloped ineral resources, our last loan on the ondon market was not at all a success. Some people put it down to our transced legislation. It can hardly be rough lack of money, judging by the splications for the Transvaal loan. Our Premier threatens that if the splications for the Transvaal loan. Our premier threatens that if the splications for the Transval loan. The country laborer during all these good times has had no increase at all. It is nonsense to say that he is unskilled. Let any of the town crowd try to milk eight cows in an hour, put up a good fence up hill and down dale; drive a reaper and binder,

W ANGANUI (New Zealand) May T.—Peace and plenty still reign throughout New Zealand. In common with the United States and other parts of the world, we still continue to keep "a full dinner pail."

For this state of affairs we have some exceptional causes to thank, which are not likely to occur again. First, the war in South Africa brought a lot of money into our pockets for oats and other produce, outfitting contingents, etc; second, the drought in Australia, which I am sure none of us defire to see again, opened a market at plg prices, which will soon be closed, as our Australian cousins are getting on their feet again.

h earnest, as he must know that if he placed loans for any considerable amount in the colony it would mean that the bulk of the money would be called in by the banks from people who are at present using it to advantage.

There is still on unsatisfied demand for land. Large estates are being bought by the government, principally in the South Island, and cut up into small farms, but this does not suit the best type of settler—i.e., the ploneer, who prefers bush land at a reasonable price. Had we unlimited money at our disposal there is no doubt that it would be a wise policy to cut up all the large estates, and also open up our unoccupied areas, as it is the effect of cutting up an estate does not men that there is a very large increase in the area of the stand paying higher prices are determined by outside supplies, and not feet on our butter industry, and any one of these things, and yet a good farm laborer things, and yet a good farm labore things, an

There are not many of the carved meeting houses in existence now, almeeting houses in existence now, although the art of carving is being revived at the Hot Lakes (Rotorna.) where pipes, walking sticks, etc., are made for sale to tourists. Our tourist traffic is increasing and if the beauties of the country were only advertised in the American fashion we would soon have a boom in that line.

KEEP AWAY.

In conclusion, I would repeat, both to land seekers and workers—keep away. Improved land, of course, is always being bought and sold, as it is in the States, but the idea, which I shared myself before returning here, that one can take up new land at a low rate as soon as he lands, is not true. As I said before, there are an average of a hundred applications for every section offered. Some men have been in evey ballot for the last rix years, and are still without land. To workers I would say that the country is only half opened up. Private enterprise is almost dormant and even if you are a native-born son of New Zealand you cannot get government work unless you have a wife and three starving children.

An infusion of American enterprise would do us a world of good, but it is not encouraged because we think that "we have nothing to learn!"

GRAPHOLOGY.

[The Los Angeles Sunday Times will print free readings of character, from handwriting, by Mrs. Franklin Hall, the expert graphologist of New York City, to those who will comply with the following rules. All specimens must be written with ink upon unruled paper, and consist of not less than thirty words. A pen name, or initials, will suffice for publication, but the real name must be sent, on a separate sheet, to the editor of The Times, and those who permit their true names to be published will be given consideration in preference to others. The true names will be kept in confidence by The Times, when requested. Aside from this preference each applicant will be answered in regular order and must patiently await his turn. All communications should be addressed to "Graphology Department, Los Angeles Times."]

Marcellus D. Colburn: You have too strong an imagination and unless it is held well in check it will plunge you into all kinds of folly. It also makes into all kinds of folly. It also makes you a trifle boastful and leads you to sometimes exaggerate. You are generous to prodigaiity and when you have money you will spend it like water, spending for others as freely as for self. You are best fitted for large undertakings and need a very active life where you are brought into constant close competition with others. You need to cultivate a little more shrewdness and diplomacy if you would make your life an entirely successful one. Are fond of adventure and of travel and there is much of the dramatic in your nature. Would do well as a commercial traveler or in real estate and insurance.

The fact of the matter is that the town workers' vote is a serious matter, while the unorganized country laborers is not work laking about.

BAD EANGUAGE.

I believe our rising generation could give yours a big start in the matter of strong language. I do not mean that all the children here swear, but a very large percentage do. To hear a crowd of school boys talking you would think that the whole universe and the contents thereof were of a crimson hue.

Treasury. Adjoining the sub-treasury is the assay office, for which a new building on another site will be erected in a few years, and lower down the street, and on the other side, is the customhouse, through which over one-half of the commerce of the country is cleared. This is a big, dark, gloomy building, erected in 1827, as the Merchants' Exchange, and at one time the Stock Exchange had its board room in it. It has long, however, been the seat of customs, but is soon to make place for a new building for the City Bank, a new customhouse in Bowling Green now being in the course of erection.

THE MORGAN CORNER.

But even this scene is apt to be less interesting to the average sight-seer than "The Morgan Corner," opposite the sub-treasury, The Drexel building, owned and occupied by J. P. Morgan as Co., stands on the corner of Wall and Broad streets, and is unquestionably the most costly piece of real estate in the United States. One square foot of the ground on which the building stands is worth more than the average city lot in any other city in the country. But it is not the business advantage of the building itself, for there are many more spacious and pretentious, but the name over the door—J. P. Morgan—that fascinates the tourist. Morgan, the modern Aladdin, who has rubbed the lamp of specultaion, and made it produce marvels such as have astonished the world. The coal that heats your house and cooks your food; the electricity that gives power to the trolley and lights the streets; the steel that makes navies, and great bridges and railroads and out of which the "sky serapers" are constructed; the ships that carry you across the continent, the banks from which you may draw your supplies of credit, all these are stamped with the name of this wonderful man, the true Napoleon of finance, whose achievements in business are comparable only with those of the Corsican in war, with this difference, that Mr. Morgan has met with no Waterloo, and known no St. Helena. If you arrive early enough, and stay long enough, you may see the great man enter or leave his banking house. But be sure to have a friend to point him out, for greatness usually bears no distinguishing backer, and, strongly marked as are MF. Morgan's features, and though his movements betray the consciousness of the power, you might miss him in the throng. Mr. Morgan's corner is a busy spot, especially when "the street" is a waiting some important announcement from the firm. Then reporters and brokers begin to gather around the door a waiting the hour of disclosure

WALL STREET IS A DISTRICT. But Wall street is something more than a street. It is, as has already been indicated, a district. When a man is spoken of as being in "Wall street," it is not necessarily implied street. It is not necessarily implied that his office is actually in Wall street. What is meant is that he belongs to that great financial district, to which Wall street has attached its name. Musicians, for the sake of convenience, may be divided into the following classes: The opera singer, the concert singer, the theatrical vocalist or vandeville singer, the band or orchestra leader, the planist and other instrumentalists of various grades of proficiency, and the teacher of music.

The opera singer may be said to occupy the highest musical position—financially certainly. The few vocalists at the top probably enjoy incomes of not less than $10,000 a year, and the public schools and the training for music of mich less than $2500 a season, while quite a number are paid as high as $5000. Perhaps as many as three, possibly as many as six, at the tiposo por the very top, are paid as high top of the very top, are paid as not paid to the provided the singer or the payer.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.) CHICAGO, June 20.—The Picket, a horse that never before flashed first past the past, won the American Derby today. He set the pace every step of the distance, was never challenged, and won in a gallop by six lengths. He and won in a gallop by six lengths. He ran the Derby distance, one and a half miles, faster than it was ever run before in the world. His time was 2:33. Claude, the winner of three Derbles, was second. Bernays, the Cincinnati candidate, was third.

It was a race without the thrill of an exciting fluish. The crowd of seventy thousand people which witnessed the sixteenth running of the event, saw a inousand people which withessed the sixteenth running of the event, saw a contest that had been decided when the field turned into the stretch. In front of a struggling Seld The Picket ran so easily and truly as to leave no doubt where he would finish. The roar of cheers which greated the successful. of cheers which greeted the successful horse began when The Picket was more than an eighth of a mile from the more than an eighth of a mile from the wire.

The Derby was a record breaker of the turf. Nineteen horses went to the post, the last previous field having been fifteen. The largest crowd that ever gathered on a western race track covered the Washington Park grounds. The race was worth $32,270, gross value, the richest in the history of the race with one exception. Betting on the race began in March, and continued until the horses went to the post. More money, it is asserted, was wagered on the Derby than on any other race ever run in America.

The victory of The Picket was no surprise because a surprise was expected. There were some big disappointments. Savable, the favorite son of Salvator, thought by John A. Drake to be invincible, failed to live up to his reputation. He received a ride from Jockey Lester Reiff that seemingly a novice could have duplicated. Savable was never dangerous, and the fortune bet on him by his owner went to enrich the bookmakers.

was never dangerous, and the fortune bet on him by his owner went to enrich the bookmakers.

Starter Dwyer delayed the start nine minutes before he dropped the flag.

Siner Simon, a "dark horse," was the first to get in motion, but the Picket did not delay an instant. In the first rush for position he was successful, and he had the lead in comparatively a few strides. Pazt the grand stand. Au Revoir, the hope of Memphis, was running second, with Gilfain, Maxey Blumenthai and other conspicuous candidates in the next division. There was no hustling until the field struck the back stretch. Savable was in seventh place and in front of him was The Picket. Au Revoir, Linguist, Bonnie Burr, Gold Bell, and Bad News. Behind Savable was Claude. There was no tan important move, by-a jockey until the field had passed the half-mile pole, and struck the big bend. The Picket, then running at his own clip, never faltered. Au Revoir began to weaken; Linguist was all through, and began to drop back. Claude made his move, and quickly advanced to fourth place. Savable at this critical place only held his own. The gradually lengthening field of horses was at the head of the stretch. The remainder of the Journey was through a lane of people, who were clinging to the rails 100 deep on each side of the course.

There was no electrifying of the strugglers. The Picket had his field beaten, and beaten badly. He was simply running as he picased. Jockey Helgerson eased him up a bit as he neared the wire. The race was over, and a Kentucky horse had won, Claude was easily the best of the other starters. He came fast into the stretch, but little Johnny Dally saw he had no change to catch. The Picket, and Claude was easily the best of the other starters. He came fast into the stretch, but little Johnny Dally saw he had no chance to catch The Picket, and also eased up, but almost too soon. Bernays, backed by Cincinnati enthusi-asis, came on grandly from the center of the field, and hitched up in a drive with Savable for the shortest end of asts, came on grandly from the center of the field, and hitched up in a drive with Savable for the shortest end of the purse. Bernays got it by a neck. Judge Hines, the horse that had juniped line popularity and been heavily backed within a week, failed to make a showing. The fast track was againgt him. He rapidly went to last position after the start, and stayed there. He was forty lengths behind when The Picket reached the wire. The Picket is a bay coit by Falsetto-Voltario. He was bred by his owners, Middleton and Jungbluth, at Louis-ville. He ran last year, but never won, and consequently carried the light burden of 115 pounds.

The Picket was regarded as a dangerous candidate. Last Tuesday he was worked over the Harlem track in preparation for the Derby in almost record time. He covered the mile and a half in 2:33. The time was so fast that many people doubted the truth of the reported work-out. The race to day proved The Picket to be a wonderful horse. He practically repeated his work-out in the race his afternoon. Neither of The Picket's owners saw him work. Carl Jungbluth is in Asia, and John Middleton heard the result of the race at Louisville. The betting on the Derby at the track was the lightest in years.

The following field went to the post, with jockeys, odds and weights and positions in the order named.

turning the first mark, while the Columbia and Constitution were trying to out-luff each other. By the sharp rivalry both the older boats lost hundreds of yards, and any prospect they might have had of winning.

After that it was a procession all the way around to the finish line. The Reliance beat the Constitution by 4 minutes and 17 seconds, and the Columbia by 7 minutes and 31 seconds. The course was twice around a triangle, a reach of three miles across the sound and a four-mile beat to windward and a broad reach of four and three-quarters miles, twenty-three and a half miles in all.

When the trio rounded the last mark and laid a straight course our a broad reach in a freshening breeze to the finish line, the Reliance headed the pretty procession by more than half a mile and held her lead to the finish. The official summary follows:

CAUGHT AT IT AGAIN.

S. Simons Arrested for a Fourth Time for Selling Liquor Illegally in his Joint on West Pico Street.

Although S. Simons had thrice been arrested and fined several hundred ollars for illegally selling liquor in dollars for liegally selling liquor in his joint near the westerly end of Pico street, and despite the fact that his license to keep a saloon there had been revoked, he does not seem to have profited by past experience. Last been revoked, he does not seem to have profited by past experience. Last night he was caught in the act of selling liquor to any and all persons who had the price, and even to policemen, several of whom went to his place attired in citizens' clothes, and saw him serving drinks to a large number of customers. He was at once arrested, and the officers seized several kegs of beer, bottles of whisky, jugs and kegs of wine, the quantity of liquor being as large as that carried by the average saloon. Realizing that he was faught again. Simons attacked Patroman Boyd and tried to strike from his hands glasses of beer which had been seized as evidence. Capt. Auble grappled him and threw him back with such force that Patroman Parker was struck and knocked down, but the evidence was saved. Simons's wife almost went into hysteries.

Simons formerly conducted a saloon on West Pico street, and several months ago he was caught selling il uor on Sunday and fined $50. A second time he was detected, and again he was fined. Then his license was found selling liquor without a license and was fined $150. He had organized what is known as the West End Club, and had secured a "charter" from the Secretary of State. This was only a blind to cover the lilegal sale of drinks and he was fined $150. Last night's raid was the result of complaints which have been made by the people who reside in that part of the city.

Skeffington is apparently considered an authority by the unionists on how to subjugate everything by strikes and boycotts. His verdict after two days' labor here that Los Angeles is the hardest proposition in the country was consequently rather discouraging to the local Hay-Biddle gang. Still it showed that Skeffington is really a man of quick and correct dis.enment.

It was after 10 o'clock that Skeffington arrived at the Council of Labor Hall. The crowd, which at first had filled every seat, had thinned out somewhat when he arrived. Some half dozen speakers had gone before, but each apparently failed to furnish the secret of how to conquer Los Angeles and install the union labor boss as dictator. Those who waited felt sure Skeffington would solve the problem, so they were proportionately disappointed Skeffington would solve the problem, so they were proportionately disappointed when he told them how unpopular he had found the boycott and how hard it would be to make it stick.

Chief Boycotter Hay usbered Skeffington to the platform, where Presiding Boycotter Biddle grasped his hand and presented him to the union dues-payers. Skeffington said he had been detained by a previous engagement with the Women's Union Label League. He sparred for wind at the beginning by reviewing some of the triumphs of unionism in the East. The traveled office-holder confressed that his union had become so prosperous that it had been able to send himself and a traveling companion as a missionary to disseminate.

the boycotting business. The speaker admitted that it was something of a shock to his well-developed nerve to be so unanimously thrown down. He said he had come to the conclusion that the only way to bring the merchants to their knees was to hurt them in their pocket-books.

The tightening of the boycott generally was urged, the only new feature suggested being the inauguration of a campaign to organize all the women possible into the Women's Union Labbi League. He said that organization now had but 85 members, against 125 a short time ago, and urged the union men to get the cooperation of their wives in their boycotts. He said the wives spent three-quarters of the funds of the home, and generally poured it into the coffers of firms who were directly antagonistic to the unionism their husbands subscribed to. Then in

Are you cursed with a whisky mortgage?

Are you pledged to the poison labeled wine and liquor? Are you possessed by the fiery temptation for spirituous beverages?

Perhaps you are only carrying a light alcoholic mortgage, not worth worrying above and easy enough to pay off when you feel inclined.

It's the little drink mortgages which make the drink-sodden mortgagee, lt's the little drink mortgages that fill the hospitals and penitentiaries and asylums.

The sinless and innocent mothers and children, poor and helpless, are the ones who have to pay the usurious interest on the little drink mortgages, and when foreclosure comes, the penance lies not on the whisky bottle, but the parent who mortgages himself to it.

If you are carrying a whisky mortgage, come and see us. We have paid off thousands of alcoholic mortgages. We have saved thousands of victims from foreclosure. We have restored them to their health, and homes, and positions, and what Dr. Hawks has done for 4700 victims cursed with whisky mortgages, he can do the same for you.

Alcoholism a disease

WHICH WE GUARANTEE TO CURE

Alcoholism is purely a disease of the nervous system which induces an habitual or periodical, intense tresistible desire for alcoholic stimulation, accompanied by paralysis of the will power. This morbid craving and infirm will power combined constitute the disease. If this functional disarrangement be removed by proper treatment the desire for stimulants will disappear and the will power will regain its strength.

Our cure is based upon the latest advanced knowledge of the etiology and pathology of the disease of alcoholism, and was discovered, after careful research and study, by DR. E. A. HAWKS, who has, within eight years, permanently cured 4700 victims of alcoholic intemperance. His experience has demonstrated thoroughly that no remedy can be prepared which will cure the liquor habit at home.

ONLY THREE DAYS

We not only relieve the patient from the desire for liquor in this length of time, but put them in such a physical condition that they do not require any stimulant to perform the most arduous duties. At the end of this time the patient feels like a new man, he has a good appetite and sleeps soundly. Our long experience in this work enables us to do this without the use of the DANGEROUS HYPODERMIC, without system wrecking drugs, work enables us to do this without the use of the DANGEROUS HYPODERMIC, without system wrecking drugs, but by a method obtained by scientific deductions covering over a period of eight long years.

To say that we place a man in a perfectly normal condition in three days would be teiling an untruth. We examine and carefully watch every patient during the time that thes are with us, thereby learning the necessities of each patient. In this manner we are enabled to send the patient home with medicine sufficient to last him for a period of about four weeks, during which time they regain their normal condition.

Our treatment is a safe and healthy remedy administered through the natural channels, the stomach, and not only antidotes the alcoholic poisoning, but restores the shattered nervous system and rebuilds the wasted physical and mental powers. WE DO NOT EMPLOY HYPODERMICS OR POISONOUS DRUGS, neither are there any disagreeable features attending our methods.

Physicians who refer their patients to us may be sure they will be returned to them PERMANENTLY CURED OF THEIR DESIRE for stimulants, and PREPARED TO RESUME THEIR DUTTIES IN A PROPER manner. Letters or verbal communications made to us by physicians or their patients will be held in STRICT CONFIDENCE.

For general information in reference to our business, write or apply to our executive offices.

Are you cursed with a whisky mortgage?

Are you pledged to the poison labeled wine and liquor? Are you possessed by the fiery temptation spirituous beverages?

Perhaps you are only carrying a light alcoholic mortgage, not worth worrying above and easy enough pay off when you feel inclined.

It's the little drink mortgages which make the drink-sodden mortgagee.

It's the little drink mortgages which make the drink-sodden mortgagee.

It's the little drink mortgages that fill the hospitals and penitentiaries and asylums.

The sinless and innocent mothers and children, poor and helpless, are the ones who have to pay the usurious interest on the little drink mortgages, and when foreclosure comes, the penance lies not on the whisky bottle, but the parent who mortgages himself to it.

If you are carrying a whisky mortgage, come and see us. We have paid off thousands of alcoholic mortgages. We have saved thousands of victims from foreclosure. We have restored them to their health, and homes, and positions, and what Dr. Hawks has done for 4700 victims cursed with whisky mortgages, he can do the same for you.

Alcoholism a disease

WHICH WE GUARANTEE TO CURE

Alcoholism is purely a disease of the nervous system which induces an habitual or periodical, intense tresistible desire for alcoholic stimulation, accompanied by paralysis of the will power. This morbid craving and infirm will power combined constitute the disease. If this functional disarrangement be removed by proper treatment the desire for stimulants will disappear and the will power will regain its strength.

Our cure is based upon the latest advanced knowledge of the etiology and pathology of the disease of alcoholism, and was discovered, after careful research and study, by DR. E. A. HAWKS, who has, within eight years permanently cured 4700 victims of alcoholic intemperance. His experience has demonstrated thoroughly that necessarily can be prepared which will cure the liguer habit at home.

ONLY THREE DAYS

We not only relieve the patient from the desire for liquor in this length of time, but put them in such a physical condition that they do not require any stimulant to perform the most arduous duties. At the end of this time the patient feels like a new man, he has a good appetite and sleeps soundly. Our long experience in this work enables us to do this without the use of the DANGEROUS HYPODERMIC, without system wrecking drugs, but by a method obtained by scientific deductions covering over a period of eight long years.

To say that we place a man in a perfectly normal condition in three days would be telling an untruth. We examine and carefully watch every patient during the time that they are with us, thereby learning the necessities of each patient. In this manner we are enabled to send the patient home with medicine sufficient to last him for a period of about four weeks, during which time they regain their normal condition.

Our treatment is a safe and healthy remedy administered through the natural channels, the stomach, and not only antidotes the alcoholic poisoning, but restores the shattered nervous system and rebuilds the wasted physical and mental powers. WE DO NOT EMPLOY HYPODERMICS OR POISONOUS DRUGS, neither are there any disagreeable features attending our methods.

Physicians who refer their patients to us may be sure they will be returned to them PERMANENTLY CURED OF THEIR DESIRE for stimulants, and PREPARED TO RESUME THEIR DUTIES IN A PROPER manner. Letters or verbal communications made to us by physicians or their patients will be held in STRICT CONFIDENCE.

For general information in reference to our business write or apply to our executive offices.

shown in the East, and in a most decided way. It is now making itself evident in Southern California, and certainly no sane man, lover of the horse though he may be, can reasonably opose a vehicle which makes his own pleasure so much keener by providing him with better highways on which to exercise it. In America the horse never has done, and never will do much to improve roads. The blcycle was the first emissary; the League of American Wheelmen practically started the present good-roads movement. While the cyclists were satisfied with two feet of good going, the autos now demand a ful! road, and they are rapidly getting it.

Take for instance the road from Los Angeles to Whittier, Los Angeles to Norwalk, or in fact any of the towns lying in that section. What is it? Hard, packed firmly, yet resilient; the ideal going that a well-oiled California highway offers the automobilist. There is practically no dust. Oil is now cheap, and other roads have been treated the same way, until now there is some pleasure in owning an auto, a bicycle or even a good horse and buggy. Five years ago as soon as one left the city limits he plunged into an alkaline, caustic dust that made driving work, not pleasure. In five years more Southern California at the present rate will have a maze of country roads hardly inferior to any in the Union, and it will be the general adoption of the automobile as a means of travel that deserves credit for it.

Around the base of the tower, which rests upon deep, sunken stone foundations, are a series of small cellars of rough rock construction. These are inspected daily by a regimental colonel, to make sure that the approaches to the strong-box are intact.

There has been much speculation as to whether the war-chest could not be robbed by an ingenious process of tunneling commenced far away, but the government has rendered such an achievement practically impossible by acquiring for military purposes most of the land in the neighborhood, and the Spandau country-side for miles around is patrolled by troops.

His peculiarly intimate acquaintance with America has made him a valued member of the Kaiser's Cabinet during the late years when the "American danger' has been such a continual nightmare to patriotic Germans. Like most of the up-to-date sovereigns, he is believed to have a comfortable balance for a rainy day at the Bank of England, and, of course, in case of necessity, the royal jewels, of which he has more than any other monarch, could be hocked for enough millions in cash to enable him to begin a respectable war. But in spite of these resources, it is said that not a single coin has been removed from the war chest in the palace during the present Shah's reign.

coin has been removed from the war chest in the palace during the present Shah's reign.

In this connection, it is interesting to note that the destruction of the old citadel at Metz the other day unearthed the war chest of Emperer Charles the Fifth of Germany, left behind in his hasty retreat from the slege of 1552. In addition to a large sum in good coin, it was found to contain a great variety of watches, of which the King was an enthusiastic collector. The value of the whole is estimated to be a little short of a million dollars. England used to have a war chest, too a strong box filled with gold that was carried about in every campaign to pay the army. The only reminder of it today, however, is what is called the "treasury chest fund," a government deposit of $3,750,000 that is always kept at the same faure, at the Bank of England; used only as a convenience whenever ready money is required, and at once restored by whatever department drew upon it.

I have heard that Austria and Italy both havev an actual, literal war chest filled with gold for an emergency, but inquiry fails to evolve any definite sum or location out of the haze of mystery in which the subject is carefully kept.

EAST ONE BOY." RE'S ANOTHER. GOOD STORIES FOR CHILDREN---By Walt McDougall

nte for Eventful Gradu David Burney's Strange Interest in Learning the Language of the Animal World and How it Brought Fame and a Fortune

> DO NOT believe that at any time or in any place there ever was a boy who pursued so strange and apparently as unprofitable a study as David Burney did, and yet the result was quite as beneficial to him as if he had studied Hebrew, trigobeneficial to him as if he had studied discharged nometry, acoustics, genealogy, archaeology, pyrotechnics, palmistry and half a dozen others just as

> In ancient times, when it was very common, in-deed, to see boys studying with alchemists, astrolo-gers and alleged wizards, such a course as David took might not have seemed so very odd, but now-adays it would be nearly impossible to find another lad who had undertaken the language of animals and birds. Such was the remarkable learning which be acquired in this branch of science that he understood what every creature was saying, no matter whether it was an elephant, a cow-bird, a turtle or a

He learned all this from a poor, obscure old man ho lived in a hovel in the Allegretto mountains in Italy, a man who was supposed by the inhabitants of that region to be half crazy and who lived almost as simply and poorly as any wild denizen of the forest, but who, once in a while, when he took a fancy to a lad, would impart his wonderful knowledge to him for a small sum of money. But unless the boy was very bright, persevering and steady he seldom wasted much time on him. David was all these and more, for his memory was so wonderful that he never forgot anything he heard and old Mr. Grauini, the hermit of the mountains, was so charmed with his gentleness, his cleverness and his studious habits that he taught him all that he knew.

"What's the use of learning animal-talk! You can't sell hats, shoes or neckties to pigs, goats or rabbits!" said David's Uncle Henry, who had a notion store in the country. "You'd better learn Russian or Filipino and make a dollar or two."

"There are other things in the world than money, replied David. "I wish to learn the habits of animals so that I can impart the knowledge to man-

"Bosh!" cried his uncle. "Who cares to know what time of night the elephant goes to bed, or whether bears snore or mice have fits? All this animal business is overdone."

"Suppose I learn how to raise seals so that we can get more sealskins?" asked David.

"Well: perhaps there would be some sense in that," replied Uncle Henry, "but you will most likely spend your time writing down the smart sayings of guineapigs or what stories wart-hogs tell in the forest. I know these naturalists and what they like to dig up about animals."

"Well, perhaps I'll find a way to make a little money, after all," said David. As Uncle Henry had helped to pay for his schooling, David thought that he ought to make some return for the outlay.

So without telling you about the many remark-shle things which the boy learned, and the conver-ations which he held with all sorts of animals that are considered dumb and senseless, how his dog and sat told him the most wonderful tales and how the birds in the trees and shrubs sang such songs to him, that he was constantly writing down all that he heard, I will simply relate how he made a great deal of money in a most peculiar manner and completely satisfied Uncle Henry that it was very profitable to learn the language of animals.

David had been talking with several cats, rats, swls and moles about their marvelous ability to see in the dark, and, although they tried to make him understand, he could not comprehend why they should be able to see what was quite invisible to should be able to see what was quite invisible to him. Meeting a rabbit one afternoon, he brought the subject up and asked the cotton-tail how he managed to dodge the low-hanging branches and stumps when running at full speed through the darkest forest.

"I suppose I do just as you would yourself," replied Bunny. "I see them and duck or dodge in time to avoid hitting them."

"But I don't see them!" exclaimed David. "Not at night. I never know a branch is there until it whacks me on the nose!"

"Can't you see it shining, just as bright as moon-lit snow?" asked the rabbit in wonder.

"Shining! Do the trees, rocks and things seem to shine!" cried David, as the new thought came

"Seem! Why, they do shine; there's no 'seem' about it!" responded Bunny, wriggling his nose in surprise. "It's as plain as day!"

Now, David had of late-been reading about the wonderful properties of certain metals which radiate light in the darkest room, which is totally some buried treasure, and your learning will invisible to a human eye, but which is so plain that some use." a photographic plate in a camera sees it and a picture is taken by it that plainly shows objects nearby. It seems as if the metal stored up the sunshine and let it ooze out by degrees, just as ice

David came to the conclusion, after consulting with all of his night-prowling animal friends, including the fox, skunk, mink, mouse and mole, that almost every substance has this power of storing sunlight in various degrees and releasing it at night, but the eyes of many animals, not being so well adapted to seeing in the dark, do not perceive any more than we do this glowing radiance,

DAVID DISCOVERS THE WHALE

fence and dodge a bootjack or a brick!" said his father. "I wish I could manage to see the path and the front steps the same way some nights," he added, thoughtfully. "Yes," said David's mother, "and how lovely it would be to get up in the night and walk around the room without knocking chairs and table over! I wish we could do it!"

"Pish, tush!" cried Uncle Henry. "What's the use of all this, except to show that animals don't have gas bills to pay. Find out how to discover

A few days after this conversation the Burney family went to the seashore for the summer, and David was delighted, as there would be opportunities to converse with new animals, such as fish, crabs, lobsters, clams, oysters, starfish and a myriad others. He spent all of his time on the beach, and people seeing him lying on the wet sand with his ear close to a recumbent clam often thought the boy demented; but he was learning all the submarine lore of the ocean.

Seahorses told him of their races, oysters sang deep-sea songs to him, fiddler crabs taught him new melodies hitherto undreamed of; dogfish revealed how they hunted the sea wolves, chased the sea urchins and scared the sea cows so that their milk soured; starfish gave him totally new ideas of astronomy, and sea spiders revealed how they existed without weaving any webs in the deep. Every day he learned some new facts, and finally he came upon the treasure that satisfied Uncle

One morning he arose at daybreak and went to the shore to meet some plover and sandsnipe, but he had scarcely approached the beach before he saw a new object. Something huge and black loomed up at the water's edge, and, hastening hither, he saw that an enormous whale lay stranded in the shoal water.

"What is the matter?" he inquired as he hastened to the monster, whose great, broad head was high and dry on the sand.

"Matter?" gasped the whale. "The matter is that I am dving.' "Why don't you make an effort and get into deep water before the tide gets any lower?" asked David

The whale put his great tongue out and David saw that it was white and coated, showing much fever. His palate was somewhat inflamed, too, and appeared harsh and dry. As his mouth opened David could see far down his throat beyond the

"Keep your mouth wide open, then," added David, "so I can get plenty of air." Then he walked down the smooth, dry throat just as he would go into a funnel. He found the whale's lungs in good condition, and did not waste any time in examining them, but hurried on to his stomach, where he expected to locate the trouble.

As he entered the stomach he stumbled over something about as big as an ordinary valise, and he picked it up, thinking he had found the cause of the whale's distress, and he hastened out with it.

When the whale saw it he said: "Oh, that's only ambergris. I get a lump of that every little while.

Thomas Higgins has purchased of J. G. Gardner, through the agency of Homose and Fourteenth street; consideration named, $12,000. The grounds are well improved, and the dwelling is new and modern, and one of the most attractive residences of the recently-improved Alvarado Terrace tract. The property is well worth the price quoted.

Buys Furnished House.

Mrs. M. T. Mullen has purchased of Ralph T. Vining, through Mines & Farish, the modern eleven-room frame dwelling, No. 1515 Hoover street, furnished, together with lot, 60x170 feet; consideration named, $12,000. The house is new and thoroughly modern, and the place is a good buy at the price quoted.

Sixth and Figueros.

One of the purchases of business property noted in the latter part of the week was that by which C. J. Heyler acquired of Sarah C. Lockwood, through the agency of Edward D. Silent & Co., a lot, 59x80 feet, on the northeast corner of Sixth and Figueroa streets, with a three-story frame business building, well rented, and yielding an income; consideration named, $20,000. This is an advance on former prices quoted in this locality, and the lot is less than standard depth, but the location is certainly a fine one, and the consideration stated is probably within the limits of its present value.

First Near Main.

One of the sales that went on record last week was the transfer from C. W. Main and E. W. Freeman, to Bernard Harris, through an intermediate conveyance, of lots I and 2 of the Nordholt, White & Puyfourcat tract; consideration named in deed nominal, estimated $35,000. The lots comprise 44:400 feet to an alley, on the north side of First street, 110 feet east of Main, with a three-story brick business building. The sale was made through the agencies of J. V. Baldwin and N. M. Entler.

This feature is rendered possible by recent discoveries of new fireproofing materials. The building will contain 160 guests' rooms, 100 bathrooms, a dining-room 40x80 feet, and a roof garden.

The main office will be located on olive street. Its walls will be surmounted by neatly-designed arches, with panel bases, and the ceiling will be beamed, and ornamented, and illuminated by numerous electric lights. The floors will be of mosaic tiling, and the geenral finish of the room will be such as to make it one of the finest hotel offices to be found on this Coast. The entrance will have bent glass windows and marble and mosaic tiling will be used, with heavy bevel plate glass surrounding the main doorways.

An equally attractive entrance will be provided for Clay street. Near the latter will be placed elevators from which every portion of the building can be reached.

A billiard room, bowling alley and other amusement features will be provided, as it is the intention of the owner to make this one of the most attractive hotels to be found in this portion of the country.

The plans were prepared by Architect A. L. Haley, and the building will be put up under his supervision.

The house when finished will be furnished after the most liberal and comfortable style by the owner, and will be operated under his personal management or under that of an experienced hotel manager.

The work of construction will begin as soon as the grounds are cleared, and the house is to be finished by next winter. It will cost about $100,000, and its location is such that it will command an excellent view of the city and of the ocean sixteen miles distant. Every modern convenience will be ployed to each apartment, a cold storage and ice manufacturing department will be a part of the equipment, and in teach room, hot and cold water will be ployed to each apartment, a cold storage and ice manufacturing depa

Pointers for Home Builders.

In the House Beautiful and Architectural Department of the Weekly Illustrated Magazine of The Times of this date, will be found a sketch of the residence that was recently erected in this city for Henry Koch. A descriptive article by the supervising architect, John P. Kemple, accompanies the picture, and contains practical suggestions that will doubtless be of value to those who contemplate building homes for themselves either in the near, or the more distant, future.

Hospital Contract Let.

The contract for erecting the four new hospital buildings, for which bids were asked last month, was awarded by the Board of Supervisors in the early part of the week, to F. O. Engstrum. It provides for a power-house, which will be a single-story and basement structure, $2x43 feet, with a smokestack 125 feet high; a contagious disease pavilion, 157x40 feet; and two medical wards, 144x42 feet each. The last three buildings will be two-story and basement structures, and all will have walls of selected red brick with stone trimmings, and be made fire-proof. Two sets of bids were submitted by each contractor. One was for buildings having stone walls, the other for buildings for the walls, the other for buildings of brick walls with atone trimmings. For the first set, the bid of Mr. Engstrum was $251,415; for the second, $208,352.67. The bids of other contractors, while in something like the same proportion, were higher. A saving of about $24,000 being thus apparent in favor of the brick buildings, the latter were contracted for by the Board. The contagious ward is to be finished in seven months, one of the medical wards in nine months, and all of the buildings within one year from date of contract. As previously noted, the plans were prepared by Architect William Moser of 6an Francisco, and the work of construction will be under his supervision, and that of Consulting Architect Octavius Morgan of this city.

happened to see an image of the Virgin Mary standing over the mantelpiece, which struck him as incongruous. By way of making talk, he asked how it got 'there.

"Well, you see, sir, it cum about this way." replied his host. "I was courtin' o' two sisters—Sally and Maria—an' I wusn't just sartin which I was to 'ave. One day, as I wor starin' into a shop winder, I saw that 'ere statoot, with 'Ave Maria' underneath it. That came right 'ome to me, so I med up me mind right off to 'ave Maria; an' we was spliced. She bin a red gude wife to me, an' so I bought the image to keep it in mind."—[Halifax (N. S.) Wesleyan. same cross streets, with nine-room frame dewelling; consideration named, $5000. Investment.

For sixteen years I have devoted my entire time and attention to the treatment of men's diseases. I have searched in the very depths of the mysteries underlying those disorders peculiar to men. I claim to have attained a greater degree of proficiency in their treatment than any other specialist in the field, and can substantiate this claim by the most practical of tests—by curing cases that others fail to cure. My methods of treatment are original with me, and have been devised through years of study and careful, painstaking and conscientious practice.

I Wait Until You Are Well for My Fee.

Weakness

By far the greater number of patients seek-ing relief for so-called "Weakness" is fur-nished by healthy and robust mes. On ex-amination we find a Prostate Gland which has been damaged by either a contracted disorder or early dissipation. These pa-tients have no weakness at all. Loss of Vitality, etc., are the symptoms of dis-ordered functions of the chronically-in-flamed prostate gland, the very center of the reproductive apparatus. I find by cur-ing this inflammation full vigor at once returns.

Stricture

Surgical operations are not necessary in the treatment of stricture. This I have demonstrated in thousands of cases, in ev-ery instance securing a complete and per-manent cure. No other physician employs my methods, so the service I offer you is original and distinctive. Do not give up hope because others have failed.

Contracted Disorders

Rvery contracted by grave dangers that nothing less than a thorough and absolute cure can remove. To take even the slightest chance in such cases is to invite life-long misery. Men do not realize this as they should. A partial cure is followed by a chronic stage with all its horrors, the same as though the disease had not been treated at all. I positively will not dismiss a patient until every possibility of relapse is removed. By my system of treatment every patient is soundly cured, and made as free from disease taint as he was before the ailment was contracted.

May this help others! I was on the tenth (10th) day of cured from rupture, which I have suffered from for four so many SO-CALLED TRUSSES, but to no avail. I find I could stand on my feet no longer. At last a prominest mine living in the city of Los Angeles.

The professor found my case such a bad one that hope in the cure, but the humane gentleman said: "Have hope in the cure, but the humane gentleman said: "Have hope in the first place to impress upon your mind as I wish in the first place to impress upon your mind as I wish in the first place to impress upon your mind as I obeying faithfully my rules."

I promised to follow his instructions carefully. I sm was cured in three (3) months from that date, and now is stored to health.

I was afterwards examined by one of the most prominently, and I have his testimony to a perfect cure.

If any man wants to consult me concerning the above at Hotel Lillie, 534 S. Hill St., where I am employed at the chef cook.
